M.SC. (APPLIED) PETROLEUM TECHNOLOGY (ONLINE) ENTRANCE EXAMINATION – 2026

Established in 1987, the Department of Petroleum Technology at Nowrosjee Wadia College, Pune, is one of the oldest postgraduate science programs in Petroleum Technology in India. The curriculum encompasses key areas such as petroleum geology, reservoir studies, production, drilling, and exploration techniques—providing students with a robust foundation in the field.

Our comprehensive teaching methodology, combined with a distinguished league of industry experts as faculty and strong industry-academia collaboration, makes this course a valuable stepping stone for aspiring professionals.

The course has received an overwhelming response, and our graduates have secured successful placements in top oil companies across the globe, further testifying to the program's credibility and industry relevance.

In the ever-evolving field of petroleum technology, bridging the gap between academia and industry is crucial. The SPE Student Chapter at Nowrosjee Wadia College, established in 2015, plays a pivotal role in this mission. Affiliated with the Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE)—a global network of over 124,800 professionals across 134 countries—the chapter provides students with invaluable opportunities for technical learning, professional development, and industry engagement. Through seminars, guest lectures, hands-on workshops, and technical competitions, the chapter fosters an environment of growth and innovation. Its consistent efforts and achievements have earned international recognition and accolades, making it a proud part of the department's identity.
