PROFESSIONAL SNAPSHOT

I am an Assistant Professor of Statistics at Nowrosjee Wadia College, Pune, with a strong academic and professional background in Statistics, Data Analytics, and Data Science. My teaching focus includes statistical methods, data analysis, and applications of statistics to real-world problems. Prior to joining Nowrosjee Wadia College, I worked as an Assistant Professor of Statistics at Vidya Pratishthan's College, Baramati, where I gained valuable experience in teaching and student mentoring. I have also completed a Data Analytics internship at Aivariant, along with certifications in Data Analytics and Data Science. My key contribution lies in bridging statistical theory with practical, data-driven applications.
